

VETPRO Seminars at Arbeit und Leben Hamburg

Train your trainees – intercultural preparation for mobility projects

Intercultural preparation of the participants is crucial for successful mobility projects. Arbeit und Leben Hamburg has a long-term experience in developing and organizing Leonardo-da-Vinci-projects and preparing participants for their stay abroad.

Participants of this workshop will learn about the concept of intercultural preparation of Arbeit und Leben Hamburg. It includes:

- Schedules (what happens when) and modules for intercultural preparation
- Theoretical background (critical race theory, culture, intercultural competence, intercultural communication)
- Intercultural sensitivity, perception and cultural awareness
- Dealing with conflicts and misunderstandings
- Working with returnees
- Experiencing the methodology of workshops for intercultural preparation of Arbeit und Leben Hamburg.

Getting to know the German dual system: A role model for Europe?

The German dual system is known all over Europe. Participants of this workshop will get an introduction and an insight into the system and will discuss the benefits and obstacles related to the dual system. Apart from a theoretical input, the participants will visit several stakeholders such as chambers, policy makers, a vocational school and a company, in order to get hands-on experience. The participants will:

- “Reflect through visit and discussion”, gain knowledge about the vocational education and training system in Germany
- Experience and learn about vocational education in the personal, economic and social context
- Reflect on their experience with their own vocational education system
- Get an insight into concepts of the German vocational education and training system and the cooperation between chambers, industry and education providers
